Commentary

The Comeragh European Growth Fund rose 0.3% vs. the benchmark STOXX Europe 600 ex UK Index return of 2.0%.

A busy reporting season saw generally underwhelming market responses to earnings beats, with top line driven mostly by price and the outlook for volumes looking more uncertain. Defensive sectors such as pharmaceuticals and consumer staples were relative outperformers whilst cyclical sectors lagged, with SKF and Repsol as well as semiconductor exposed names ASML and Elmos among our weakest performers. Following last month's turmoil, financials recovered, with Scor, Soc Gen and Unicredit among our best performers. Other strong performers included Swiss heating and air conditioning systems producer Meier Tobler and Swedish listed gaming company Betsson, which reported a solid set of Q1 results and outlook statement, driving earnings upgrades.

We initiated new positions in Norwegian consulting firm B3, Swiss semiconductor manufacturer u-Blox and Denmark's Sydbank. Car carrier Hoegh Autoliners was sold and a handful of other positions reduced.
